IN MEMORIAM

IN MEMORY
GILES: In memory of our dear son, Harry Byrd Giles, who passed away one year ago, May 16, 1961.
A precious one from us has gone,
A voice we love is still.
A place is vacant in our home,
Which never can be filled.
The stars are brightly shining,
Upon a silent grave,
And in it lies a dear one,
We loved but could not save.
Dear Harry, since you have gone away
The dear ones you loved so true
Are trying hard to carry on.
The way we know you would want us to.
Harry, the flowers placed upon your grave
May wither and decay,
But the love for you who lies
beneath will never fade away.
Though the darkness of sorrow
We see the light of cheer,
Knowing God will always help us,
That His love is always near,
You are gone but not forgotten,
Harry, nor shall you be,
As long as life and memory last
We shall always remember thee.
Sadly missed by Father, Mother, Sister and Brother,

11% Rise in Schooling In Appomattox County

NEW YORK, May 21 — The educational trend is upward in Appomattox County.

According to latest Government reports there has been a marked increase in the past ten years in the amount of schooling that local residents have been acquiring.

More of them than ever before have been completing elementary school and have been going on to high school and to college.

Today, the average resident of Appomattox County, by the time he reaches age 25, is equipped with 8.9 years of formal education, which is more than he would have had ten years ago. At that time, the median number of school years completed locally was 7.2.

The figures, just released by the Census Bureau, are based on data gathered during the 1960 national tabulations.

They indicate that, despite all the criticism levelled at them, the younger generation is putting more time and effort into the educational process than it has for a long while.

Gains are noted in almost every section of the country in the number of years being devoted to schooling, with some areas showing much greater improvement than others.

Women appear to be taking full advantage of their educational opportunities. The figures show, in fact, that they tend to stay in school longer than men do, even though a smaller porportion of them continue on through college.

In Appomattox County, the median number of years completed by women is 9.0 and, by men, 7.6.

Why are the young folk continuing in school longer than they did formerly? To a large extent, it appears to be a matter of economics.

They have come to realize that if they fail to get an adequate education they will be forfeiting job opportunities and thousands of dollars in possible future income.

Reports on this subject from the U. S. Department of Labor and from other agencies have brought home to them the fact that each year of education adds a certain amount to a person's lifetime earnings.

The results has been a decline in the number of students dropping out prematurely in Appomattox County and an 11 percent rise in years of schooling since 1950.
